Buying Victory Bonds is Common Sense Act

Investing of profits in Victory Bonds has a particular appeal to western farmers. The action is a sort of merry-go-round in which the farmer makes money at each turn. Not only does he gain a good rate of interest, but he assures himself of a market for his products at profitable prices.

The big business of Canada is built on foreign trade. This foreign trade has to be financed. Victory Loan proceeds provide the credits, the farmer is provided with markets.

The grain grower of the west is receiving $2.15 a bushel for his wheat, and proportionately good prices for his other products. As a matter of good business, the western farmer is urged to invest every cent of his earnings that he can spare in these bonds.

The Weaker Vessel

You may not like this title but you can't help liking the photograph. Somewhere, Universal dug up a character actor named John Cooke. John Cooke plays John Hanks, and he plays him until you are likely to roll off your seat, and under it, and maybe down the aisle—if they have an inclined floor in your moving photograph shop. This story is about the Hopkins family—Abby, and her folks: They aren't very rich, but they have practical ideas, and the most practical one pops up when Hanks, the town's richest man, and the eldest of three good women, pops the question to Abby. Abby goes through as far as the bridal chamber, but at an exhibition of her ancient spouse's connubial order she runs home—and then runs away. Thereupon the author shows a lot of daring: he puts Abby in a Child's restaurant in a big town, and has her first laugh at, then pity and finally embrace a poor, shiftless, alcoholic actor. The complete rebuilding of this thespian in the minds of the audience is one of the most artistic pieces of adroit photoplay construction I have ever seen. Mary MacLaren plays Abby, and Thurston Hall gives one of his completest and finest screen portraits as J. Booth (Booze) Hunter, the hysteric. But go to see John Cooke, whatever you do—here is a new screen comedian who is a continuous upsurge. Score again for that director with brains, Paul Powell—Julian Johnson in Photoplay Magazine.

Note.—This great comedy-drama arrives at the Rex theater Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 29 and 30. If you miss seeing this picture you have missed the best of all photoplays.

The Alberta Egg Laying Contest

The egg laying contest to be held at the Experimental Farm at Lethbridge will do much to establish the suitability of Alberta as an egg producing province. Already the Experimental Farm and the Department of Agriculture both produced a number of hens that lay over 200 eggs in a year and there is no reason why more breeders in the province should not do likewise. The contest will not only show that Alberta can produce high layers, but it will also bring out those that are breeding for high egg production, and will give them a standing in the business which nothing else will.

As egg laying contests are being conducted by the Experimental Farms in practically every province in the Dominion, a comparison of yields will be interesting and will be closely watched by all interested in poultry production. It is therefore, up to the breeders of the province to see that this contest, being held at Lethbridge, which starts November 1st, has as entrants, some of the best breeders in the province. We want to put Alberta on the map as an egg producing province. Owing to the lateness in advertising, entries will be received up to the last of September, providing the contest is not full earlier. Rules and regulations have been well published, but copies may be had on application to the Dominion Poultry Husbandman, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. The entrance fee of $5.00 for a pen of ten birds should be sent at the time of application, and all cheques and money orders should be made payable to W. A. Fraser, Accountant.

Okotoks Review: Within the last few weeks a young fellow of about 20 came down here and sold several bicycles to local citizens. Shortly afterwards the same individual was arrested on information received from Calgary. The accused was brought up last week, pleaded guilty and sentence was reserved. Some of those who bought bicycles have got their money back from the thief since.

On Sept. 22nd, the steel workers of the United States went out on a strike, giving unsatisfactory conditions as their reason for striking. 350,000 workers are said to be out, and there has already been bloodshed.

Brazilian Property In Germany Is Safe

In contradiction of this it can be stated that such property has been neither liquidated nor subjected to compulsory control.

TEETHING TROUBLES

Baby's teething time is a time of worry for most mothers. Baby's little gums become swollen and tender, his bowels get out of order and constipation, colic, even diarrhoea ensue. To make the teething period easy for the little one. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels and keep baby good natured. Concerning them Mrs. Marcel D. Leblanc, Memmucrook, West. N.H., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past six years, and have found them indispensable. To my mind, nothing can equal them in allaying the fever and accompanying teething troubles without them, and can strongly recommend them. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Indemnity for New Zealand

Ottawa.—The statement attributed to Premier Massey that New Zealand expects to receive £10,000,000 indemnity from Germany is the subject of comment among members, and there is likelihood of questions in the house as to what Canada's share is likely to be. Canada's statement of claims has already been filed, but it is emphasized here that will be received cannot be estimated until all claims have been filed and the ability of Germany to pay has been determined.

Korean Capital Occupied By Japanese Soldiers

Every Part of City Has Been Occupied By Japanese Troops

Tokio.—Since the attempt to assassinate Baron Saito, governor of Korea, at Seoul on September 2, every part of that city has been occupied by Japanese troops and the place is virtually in a state of siege. The would-be assassin is still at large, although a number of persons suspected of being implicated in the plot are under arrest.

The Japanese press takes the view that the bomb outrage was to have been expected, pointing out that it was almost a logical development. It expresses the opinion that the appointment of a naval officer as governor of Korea was probably inopportune and the result of poor judgment, as it only served to inflame the Koreans, who had hoped that a civilian would be named. Takahashi, leader of the Kōmeitō, or national party, takes a similar view. He said that a civilian might have calmed the Koreans, who regard Baron Saito as a man of the sword, like his predecessors.

Cheese By Parcel Post

Ottawa, Ont.—According to Mr. P. Roy, Commissioner-General of Canada in Paris, France, Canadian cheese has been shipped to France by parcel post. It appears that while in France Mr. John F. Ryan, of Montreal, presented to a number of merchants in Paris samples of cheeses which he had received by parcel post. The samples were sent in a small 10-pound cask of the ordinary kind, but the cheese had been dipped in paraffin and wrapped in ordinary wrapping paper. The cheese was received 34 days after it was mailed, and it is said to have arrived in excellent condition.

It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of benzene will cost very little and remove the corn without incision or cutting. You are further warned that cutting a corn is a suicidal habit.

No Deviation From Evacuation Policy

When Poles Become Closed British Troops Will Have Left

London, England.—When interviewed by the War Office regarding certain allegations made by Col. Sherwood Kelly to a British newspaper in respect of the North Russian operations, a high official denied that there was or had ever been the slightest intention of deviating from the settled policy of British evacuation from North Russia, and gave the assurance that when the ports became closed it would be found that the British troops would have left. The generals on the spot have their orders, which apply to North Russia generally, and there is no intention of holding on to Old Watkes.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1919

An item which appeared in our local columns referring to the visit of the Prince to High River has been the cause of considerable comment during the past week and some of our readers have taken exception to the opinions expressed.

Regarding the item in question we wish to explain that we simply inserted amongst the locals an opinion expressed by one who had no intention that his thought should appear in print and we admit that it would have been better had we not published it.

Our past record, so far as our gifts and service to the various patriotic funds, has been such that we feel sure that no one would doubt our loyalty. The conversation that suggested the item concerned the lavish expenditure on decorations and entertainment of the Prince, which we are not alone in feeling was hardly warranted, in view of the small pensions given our wounded veterans and the dire need of the necessities of life felt by millions of people in the world at the present time.

We will not take a back seat to anyone in our loyalty to the British Empire and all that the Empire stands for. We are proud to be a citizen in the greatest and grandest Empire the world has ever known. We honor the King and the Prince of Wales, not because of any divine right possessed by them, but as the highest representatives of that Empire. As such it was only fitting that when the Prince responded to the invitation to visit Canada that a warm welcome should be given him. His public addresses, his genial disposition, his interest in the men who sought for the freedom of the world on the battle-fields of Europe have won for him the respect and affection of the Dominion.

If in the opinion of our readers the item savors of disrespect or disloyalty, we most humbly apologize, and in doing so emphatically affirm that any such feeling was far from our thoughts when the item was passed on for publication.
